

This petition should be struck down immediatly. There is no reason to require manufactuers of amateur equipment to make their equipment "field serviceable." If someone wants gear they can repair in the field, they should build it themselves - many, including myself do just that.

John Wagner, N1QO